

DCSR? Kesako?

The full name is the Division de Calcul et Soutien à la Recherche / Computing and Research Support unit

The mission of the DCSR is to supply the University of Lausanne with compute and storage capabilities for all areas of research.

As well as managing compute and storage systems we also provide user support:

- Courses on related subjects
- Technical support (compilation, software installation, data movement)
- Project support (HPC, big data, machine learning, web, databases, ...)

The official DCSR homepage is at: <https://www.unil.ch/ci/dcsr-en>
