If you teach in this type of room in Hy-Flex mode:

Here is the recommended modus operandi:

- Provide a ZOOM room and share the access link for students who are taking your course remotely in synchronous mode.
- Open this room at the beginning of your course and start recording it "locally" and not on the cloud.
- Use your computer's webcam for the video and connect a USB microphone, if you have one, to broadcast the sound in the ZOOM room.
- Connect your computer to the classroom projector and display the ZOOM room for all students.
- Deliver your course by sharing your materials via the ZOOM room ("share screen" function).
- At the end of the class, end the meeting and the video file of the recording is generated on your computer.
- Upload your video file to your personal channel on rec.unil.ch, it will then be available to your students via Moodle.
